

I support net neutrality. In my house we rely on the internet for educational purposes, and speedy access to educational material should not be at a premium price or decided by corporations. Our time is invaluable. Don't put a price on it.